STRESS

WEEK AT A GLANCE: Christ was service-oriented, but He also recognized that rest and time apart in communion with His Father were important for a balanced lifestyle and healthy stress management.

THAT YOU MAY KNOW

An Old Chalice

Read Psalm 103:6-18

"Anyone who is joined to Christ is a new being; the old is gone, the new has come."—2 Corinthians 5:17 (TEV)

Once I went into a second-hand shop filled with all kinds of old junk. It was a shop for the poor, where people could get a free cup of coffee and rest in run-down armchairs. They seemed to be living in a timeless zone, free from the hectic life outside.

While walking by one of the shelves in the shop, I noticed an old cup, a chalice, tarnished and dirty. I decided to buy it and clean it up. I bought it for just the few coins I had in my pocket. The price was less than the cost of a city bus ticket.

When I started polishing the cup, shiny silver began to appear. After a while, I had in front of me a beautiful chalice that could be used in Holy Communion. It was not only worth a lot of money but was also a token of what Jesus did for me when he shed his blood on the cross for my sins. I am not worth a lot in modern society except perhaps for my taxes. I was as dirty as junk, but I have been cleansed by Jesus Christ.

Even though I don't belong to the upper class of this world and I visit shops for the poor, I am precious in God's eyes.

Mission Spotlight Returns

Beginning next week, the Mission Spotlight will return. The third Sabbath each month there will be a showing of the Mission DVD at 10:30 a.m.

"It is not work that kills; it is worry. The only way to avoid worry is to take every trouble to Christ. Let us not look on the dark side. Let us cultivate cheerfulness of spirit."—Ellen G. White, Mind, Character, and Personality, p. 466.

"If we educated our souls to have more faith, more love, greater patience, a more perfect trust in our heavenly Father, we would have more peace and happiness as we pass through the conflicts of this life. The Lord is not pleased to have us fret and worry ourselves out of the arms of Jesus. He is the only source of every grace, the fulfillment of every promise, the realization of every blessing. . . . Our pilgrimage would indeed be lonely were it not for Jesus. 'I will not leave you comfortless' (John 14:18), He says to us. Let us cherish His words, believe His promises, repeat them by day and meditate upon them in the night season, and be happy."—Ellen G. White, Mind, Character, and Personality, p. 468.
