

SCRIPTURE READING
Matthew 11:28; 19:20; John 6:37 (NKJV)

- 28 Come to Me, all you who labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.
- 20 The young man said to Him, "All these things I have kept from my youth. What do I still lack?"
- 37 All that the Father gives Me will come to Me, and the one who comes to Me I will by no means cast out.

"All that man can possibly do toward his own salvation is to accept the invitation, 'whosoever will, let him the the water of life freely' (Rev 22:17)"

Ellen G. White, ISM, p 343

"The holy life is not - I must be kinder, must exercise stricter control of my thoughts - these are most commendable resolves.

Perfection is not the fruit of man's best endeavors. Like salvation, it is the gift of God, bestowed in anser to our self-surrender."

William Booth

The law was never designed to be a means of salvation. Through the working of the Holy Spirit, the law creates in the sinner a need for the grace (gospel) of Christ. By pointing out what is right, what is good, and what is true, those who fall short of that standard (which is all of us) realize our need of salvation. In this sense the law points us to the need for the gospel, the need of grace. This grace comes to us through Jesus. The function of the law, even in the Old Testament, was to show us our need of salvation; it was never a means of providing that salvation.
