

SCRIPTURE READING

Luke 15:9-10

- 9 And when she hath found it, she calleth her friends and her neighbours together, saying, Rejoice with me; for I have found the piece which I had lost.
- 10 Likewise, I say unto you, there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth.

CREATION, AGAIN

KEY THOUGHT: For the redeemed, the new creation takes what they have had to accept by faith—that God indeed is best qualified to rule—and makes it sight. The best part of the new creation is not the reduction of our limitations but the unrestricted communion with God.

Board Meeting Rescheduled - Monday , March 25, 2013

Join us next Sabbath for a special
Resurrection service

Life is a marvelous phenomenon. We are all familiar with life, but there is still something mysterious about it. We can take apart a living organism, but in the end we find nothing there except various kinds of atoms and molecules. We can collect the molecules in a container and heat it or pass an electric spark through it or try any number of other experiments, but we do not get life again. There is no entity called "life" that exists within a living body or a living cell. Life is a property of the entire living system, not an entity that can be separated from the cells.

On the other hand, we know much about how to produce death. We have devised many ways of killing living things. Some of these methods reveal in astonishing detail the violence and cruelty of our sinful hearts. Death we can produce, but the creation of life is beyond our grasp. God alone has the ability to create living organisms. Scientists have tried to create life, thinking that if they could do so they would have an excuse for why they do not believe in God. So far, all such efforts have failed.

If life comes only from God, then separation from God cuts us off from the Source of life. The inevitable result of separation from God is death. Even if one lives 969 years, as did Methuselah, the story still ends with "and he died." Sin, by its very nature, causes separation from life, and the result is death.

Adult Sabbath School Lesson
Monday, March 18, 2013

"Just how God accomplished the work of creation he has never revealed to men; human science cannot search out the secrets of the Most High. His creative power is as incomprehensible as his existence."

—Ellen G. White,
Patriarchs and Prophets, p. 113.
